This term is set to be one of the BEST yet!

With lots of celebrations for World Book Day planned, we can't wait for the next term of LSW workshops to begin. We will be launching our award-winning workshops in several new schools, as well as running some extra-special half-term Writing Retreats. We're also looking forward to unveiling our exciting new, interactive online platform in April 2017, and taking the 'Literacy Revolution' to schools around the country. More news of which will be released in the New Year!
